WORK EXPERIENCE

FREELANCE DESIGNER AND ILLUSTRATOR

2012 - PRESENT

As a freelance designer it's necessary to wear many hats, utilizing design, communication, and time management skills. Being a freelance designer has taught me how to meet client's expectations as well as my own. I also have to integrate my process with multiple teams on the fly.

CO-FOUNDER: NOMADIC DESIGN COMPANY

2015

As a co-founder of this startup, I was responsible for both the daily tasks as well as the overall vision of the company. I used my leadership skills to help empower the team and delegate work to everyone's strengths. In this role it became clear that direct, honest, and empathetic communication was the key to having a project succeed.

UI DESIGNER: MANTRA INC.

2013

As a UI designer I was presented with the challenge of creating both functional and beautiful designs. Working in Chicago's startup environment, I was given a crash course in being a team player. I had to find the balance between following and stepping into a leadership role whenever it was asked of me.
